Description of Incident

An employee of [redacted] and was walking to the parking lot on [redacted] Ave [redacted] and he saw a male with a [redacted] pulled tight around his face. [redacted] jeans and sunglasses. The employee stated that this was unusual because it was about 70 degrees and his clothing didn't fit the weather. The male took three separate photos of the [redacted] to the [redacted] and then of the [redacted] to the North near [redacted]. The male then walked to the intersection of [redacted] Ave and [redacted] Ave. and took pictures of the [redacted]. He then walked E/B on [redacted] Ave towards the [redacted] and took more photographs. The employee stated that the male was looking around the entire time he watched him as if to make sure no one was watching him. The employee called 911, but the male was gone before they could arrive and contact him. The employee believed the male was doing surveillance of the area based on his prior career training in the military. The actions of the male are consistent with preoperational surveillance. The area has signs posted of no photography, the male was hiding his face, was not dressed for the weather, taking photographs of intersections and critical infrastructure and was continually looking around to make sure no one was watching him. If you have had similar incidents at your location please contact Detective Renihan.
